Website Design and Development

KARDA Constructions

Follow was commissioned by Karda Constructions to design and launch a new web site to showcase their portfolio of amazing projects.

The award-winning local building company has been going from strength to strength specialising in bespoke renovations and maintenance, but their online presence was not keeping pace with their achievements in the physical world.

Working closely with the client, we arrived at a simple new IA to highlight key information, and designed a clean experience that brings the quality of the work front and centre.

We designed and built CMS functionality allowing client administrators to fully maintain and update projects and important information for existing and potential clients.

As always, we paid careful attention to responsive design to ensure the smartphone and tablet experience using the site is seamless and satisfying.

We're proud to have been given the chance to showcase such extraordinary local talent, and look forward to watching the Karda Constructions online portfolio grow.

BUILD LIVE.
LOVE MAINTAIN.

BUILD

Working collaboratively with some dedicated and talented architects and designers, we are able to analyse your needs, focus on your design dreams while fitting within your budget.

ABOUT

KARDA is an inspiring residential construction brand in Brisbane, Australia. Established as a family business many years ago, KARDA has developed into a leading, holistic building and maintenance company. Working collaboratively and creatively to deliver in each and every build. This in turn allows our clients to live and love in a way which is natural to them! While we assist them to maintain the sanctuary in which they live – their home!

HISTORY

KARDA was built by our director, David Hunter over 10 years ago. Beginning with a passion for the built environment and all things construction as a young child, Dave propelled into the industry as soon as possible. He started learning with an organic company specialising in renovating Brisbane's Authentic Queenslanders, where he developed a wealth of knowledge. Over almost 20 years, his experiences quantified his expertise and led him in many different directions in this industry from maintenance, renovations, large scale extensions, new homes and even commercial renovations. Passionate about building with ambitions to lead the way, KARDA started as a family-based business. Today – it has evolved into an Award-Winning brand that resonates with honesty, integrity and quality. This is all thanks to our growing KARDA team of employees, apprentices, contractors and specialised trades who represent KARDA daily proving to be professional and dynamic while producing quality services in both our BUILD and MAINTAIN divisions.
